What Makes a Mood

Now if you think that the influence of Movies, Books and Songs are all powerful in the projection of Mood, then you are dead right.

Here I am dealing with the thing with which Hollywood scenario writers, pulp magazine writers and song writers make liberal capital.

Mood can be defined as a certain emotional state of mind, practically any state of mind. It is highly intangible and flexible but generally always spontaneous.

It has definite associations with bedfellows that are quite peculiar and questionable. It is associated with such stuff as dead cigarette butts with lipstick traces, painted finger-nails, perfume, all undeniably linked with the more deadlier of the species—the female animal.

Then we have all the songs. Several come to mind: Can't Get Out of This Mood, Moonlight Mood, Mood Indigo, In a Sentimental Mood, or even In The Mood. All of which gives ample proof for suggestion that man is an incurable sentimental idiot, or else he would never have written such stuff.

• • •

Incurable Sentiment

I can always recognize The Incurable Sentimentalists who invariably go hand in hand with Mood. You see, it is their inseparable stock-in-trade. I meet them sitting gloomily in solitary seclusion in various bistros, contemplating somewhat glassy-eyed a cigarette slowly burning itself out into dead dead ashes. The cigarette is undoubtedly tipped with the scarlet of lipstick.

Like the song, "These Foolish Things", a piano is slowly tinkling in the distance. This is popularly accepted as being Mood. It is a decidedly romantic one, I [illegible] admit.

[illegible] can also play the game, [illegible] looking at each [illegible] cigarette butts slowly [illegible] into nothingness.

It could be a dangerous folly, [illegible] at this point to have [illegible] with such a practice, [illegible] apt to change your en[illegible] of life. In no time at [illegible] father a progeny [illegible] brats or cuddlesome [illegible] acquire dishpan hands [illegible] other glorious attri[illegible] bliss.

[illegible] be conjectured, there[illegible] Mood, if so helped [illegible] be an awfully dan[illegible] catching thing.

Nov. 18 Is Date For First Toronto JCCA Oratorical

The date for the Toronto JCCA's first Ontario-Wide Oratorical Contest for 20-year-olds and under has finally drawn near and it only remains for the eight contestants who represent a cross-section of Southern Ontario Nisei to show their stuff at the Canadian Legion Hall (main hall) this Sunday, Nov. 18, starting from 7:30 p.m.

With this contest, Chairman Hideo Hiraki and his Educational Committee will have completed almost two months of preparation for the event which will see a total of $200 awarded.

The awards have been donated as follows: $100 from the Toronto JCCA, $50 from the members of the Toronto JCCA Executive, $25 from Mr. E. Kagetu, $15 anonymous, and $10 anonymous. A JCCA Challenge Trophy will also be awarded to the winner.

Coming from various points in Ontario will be Dave Sunohara, 17, Cedar Springs; George Takashima, 17, Ruby Ebisuzaki, 17, and David Suzuki, 15, from London; and Tad Suzuki, 19, from Hamilton. Toronto orators will be June Watanabe, 17, Richard Arima, 20, and Akemi Horiuchi, 15.

One of the contestants from Toronto, Robert Kimura, withdrew from the contest because of unforseen circumstances.

A panel of three judges will make the final decisons. They are Professor W. G. Frisby from the University of Toronto, Mr. D. Green from Humberside C. I. and Mr. C. Hagen from Jarvis C.I. Usual oratorical rules will prevail with the speakers being limited to 10 minutes.

The Quinteats musical group will furnish the entertainment while Hugo Yamamoto will act as chairman, and it is expected that the Contest, having already raised considerable comment, will be one of the highlights in the local scene for the year. The Contest designed primarily to give young Niseis a chance to speak and thus produce leadership material among Japanese Canadians, is one of the important projects for the local JCCA.

To Note Memory of Founder Of J.C. Labor Movement

The memory of the late Etsu Suzuki, an Issei trail-blazer in the field of Japanese Canadian labor unionism, will be honored at a memorial meeting which will be held by his former friends and followers at the Canadian Legion Hall on Sunday, Nov. 18, at 2 p.m.

Mr. Suzuki, the founder of the labor movement among JC's in the decade between 1920-30, helped to organize a labor union among the Japanese workers and was instrumental in getting this union into joining the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada and the Vancouver-New Westminster And District Trades and Labor Council (AFL).

The latter group at one time had carried anti-Japanese sentiment, claiming that the Japanese worked for cheap wages and were an unorganized lot.

Among speakers at this meeting will be T. Sada, S. Kamino, T. Kameoka, I. Uchida, T. Umezuki, T. Ide and others. Fred Kayahara, a Nisei, who got his early training in labor unionism through the Junior Section of the Japanese Camp and Mill Workers' Union, will also speak.

Two U.S. Nisei Among Sweepstakes Winners

NEWMARKET, Eng. — A New York Nisei and a Northern Californian were among 15 Americans winning on Irish Hospital sweepstakes. Harry A. Yagi of Oakland, Calif., won $140,000, on the 28 to 1 winner, Fleeting Moment, while Bertha Takamoto of New York won $56,000 on Denizen, a 20 to 1 shot.

ACROSS MY MIND . . .

By Jack Nakamoto

As in other fields, there are tall tales handled about in the restaurant trade. Here's one told me by a waiter.

Into a third-rate restaurant, crowded with lunch-hour customers came a fastidiously-dressed gentleman who seemed accustomed to gracious living. As he carefully wormed his way through the crowd looking for a seat, he excused himself politely to those whom he brushed by.

When he managed to find a seat, he waited patiently with his hands clasped and lying on table until the waiter came to take the order. The gentleman [illegible] ordered T-Bone steak, kindly requesting that the meat be thin, fried 'rare' and seasoned with a piece of garlic.

At length, the waiter took the order to the waiting gentleman, but when he returned to the kitchen with the steak, the cook glared and asked: "What the h--- is the matter with it?"

"He says it's too darn thick," the waiter said.

"Give me that steak!" hollered the cook, and grabbed the meat off the plate and tossed it on the floor and continued, "I'll show him not to be fussy during rush hour!"

Then he stepped heavily on the steak, started to pound on it with his greasy pair of shoes. His fists were doubled and his arms moved piston-like, faster and faster with the stomping motion of his feet.

"O. K. Joe, you get on it now!" the cook who was now out of breath, told the dishwater.

Joe who was short and stocky began to stomp on the steak. His movements were slower but nevertheless the steak gradually flattened out as it took a beating from his heavy work boots.

Then the cook picked up the flattened-out steak and with a rag used for cleaning the excess grease off the top of the stove, wiped off the dust and dirt from the meat.

When the steak was served, the gentleman beamed with delight at the very thinness of it.

Later, when the waiter returned to the table to retrieve the dirty dishes, he found tucked under a plate—a dollar bill!

VANCOUVER. — A Japanese Canadian fisherman who was believed to have lost his life in the near-sinking of his gillnetter HY 2451, was reported to have been saved, in the latest flash received by this correspondent, by an Indian fisherman.

He is Hisao Yamamoto of Humpback Bay, Porcher Island, south of Prince Rupert, B. C.

Yamamoto's 30-foot craft was discovered half-submerged with the hold full of fish in heavy seas off Campbell River by the coastal freighter MV Northern Express. He was reported by the Federal Fisheries Dept. as fishing this season in the Porcher Island-Granville area, about four hours' run south of Prince Rupert.

Crew members of the MV Northern Express spotted the fishing boat off Middlenach between Campbell and Powell Rivers on the afternoon of Nov. 8 and lifted it from the water with their rigging booms and towed it into Vancouver harbour.

• • •

Meanwhile another rescue operation was effected last week by the Japanese freighter MS Kenkon Maru which limped into Vancouver with minor engine trouble after picking up 12 survivors of the fire-gutted American freighter George S. Walton.

The Japanese ship was the first to reach the doomed Liberty ship, 390 miles off Cape Flattery, 470 miles southwest of Vancouver, which lighted a stormy sea throughout the night of Nov. 6 with a flaming cargo of grain India-bound. An engine-room explosion had started the fire.

The Kenkon Maru picked up the survivors from their life-boats and took them to Port Angeles, Wash., before arriving at the Vancouver port where it will pick up a cargo of grain.

NISEI GIRL SAVED BY TWO OTHER GIRLS

VANCOUVER — A Nisei girl living in the Sisters of Service Residential Club was a near victim last week of a prowler who was cowed into submission by two other girls.

Doris Katsuno upon awakening found a man at her bedside holding her hand, and when she screamed, Alice Svardar grabbed the man in a vice-like grip until Rose Anne Velia went into action with a mop. The girls had detected the prowler climbing up the fire escape.

Frank S. Leach, 26, who was held by the girls until police arrived, was charged with breaking and entering the home.

SUPPORT THE FUND DRIVE

This year, more than ever, canvassers upon ringing doorbells and entering the threshold of homes, will come face to face with queries from individuals who will question the need for the JCCA organization. This is inevitable for it is the right of the individual to question. And it stems from the fact that maintenance of the JCCA is an expensive item.

We focus attention on the local Toronto JCCA chapter's fund drive which has set its quota at $4,000 for the year (Last year it failed to reach the same quota, falling short by almost $1,000, although certainly not through lack of work by canvassers who donated their time to do what could scarcely be called a likeable job), because its problem is similar to those faced by other chapters in Canada.

Is there a need for the JCCA? Can the canvasser explain the need to the satisfaction of the would-be donator or will it be the case where the donator gives solely to get rid of the canvasser or flatly refuses?

The benefits which a community (such as Toronto) derives from its local JCCA chapter are manifold and can be easily grasped whereas the National JCCA work, especially at the present time, is less likely to be on the tongue of the average Nisei or Issei. It is to the National body that a major portion of any local quota is to go.

The Nat. JCCA Conference in Montreal this year resulted in the endorsement of future work to be done by the National JCCA in the cultural, social, economic, and racial fields. It is only through such an organization that embodies all parts of Canada where there is Japanese Canadian representation, that a united effort can be made to achieve results. The past achievements of the JCCA could never have been accomplished without the united effort.

To carry on future work and to insure the future of the JCCA which is the organization of all Japanese Canadians, financial support is needed. It is a glaring fact that JCCA finances are not in a healthy state and there is a serious deficit in the National budget caused by groups not being able to meet their quotas.

It also must be remembered that canvassers are volunteer workers and that their job is not an easy one. Make it easier by giving your financial support.

A PUZZLING TREATMENT

Canada's treatment of its Indians, a much abused minority, shows a puzzling reluctance to treat them as human beings.

LETTER TO EDITOR:

Why the CCF...

ED. NOTE: The following has been written by William Newcombe, CCF candidate in St. Patrick's riding, and explains his party's policies in the coming Ont. elections.

Editor, The New Canadian:

What's the dividing line between the CCF and the Old Parties—the Liberals and the Conservatives? What is the fundamental difference?

These are important questions with the Ontario provincial election coming up on Nov. 22.

The answer is simple.

The Co-operative Commonwealth Federation believes in human values. The Old Parties believe in Dollar values.

There are candidates and members of the Old Parties who honestly believe they should honor some of the promises they make during election time for the people's welfare. But after the election they find that the big financial interests that run their party step into the picture and turn thumbs down on any progressive measure for the people's benefit.

Why?

Either because some of the money involved will have to come from their own pockets, or because it interferes with their plans for making more money—out of Labour, out of Insurance, out of Housing.

The Old Parties are so involved with the Big Money Boys that they can't give us decent government if they wanted to. They are chained by the large contribution which these financial interests give for campaign funds, contributions that enable the Conservatives and the Liberals to buy big, full-page ads, to have expensive billboards, to pay their scrutineers and their canvassers, to fill their newspapers with paid propaganda.

The CCF, on the other hand, gets its financial support from ordinary working people, a few dollars at a time, and its election work is done by volunteers, giving up their spare time and their nights to help.

The CCF gets its policies, its direction, its support from the people, not from special interests.

Take the problem of housing, for example.

The CCF housing plans are given priority because we know—through our own experience—how desperate the need is.

We know that no party backed by financial interests will be allowed to spoil a market of short supply that means huge profits. The Old Parties do not dare build homes at a price people can afford because that would ruin the high, inflated real estate values in force today.

In my riding of St. Patrick, I find four or five families crowded into a house intended for one family. I find single rooms renting for $20 a piece. I find homes breaking up because there is no decent privacy, and children with no place to play but the dangerous crowded city streets.

I find people living with a few bare sticks of furniture because all their money is taken by high rent and high food.

Worse than that, I find ordinary decent people, forced through circumstances to buy houses at prices far beyond their real value and then, in turn, renting rooms at exhorbitant prices to help pay for the house.

What a sad commentary on our civilization! Turning a perfectly normal human impulse—to own your own home—into a cruel, hard instinct—to squeeze somebody else, to exploit the next person!

We can make decent housing available.

It will mean the end of new cocktail bars, of million dollar bank buildings, of seven-story insurance blocks, of luxurious theatres—until after the homes we need are built. When we have those homes, then and then only is the time for the building of fancy work.

The Bureau of Statistics reports another huge drop in home building figures for the month of September—a drop of 46 per cent. from a year ago. This is a direct result of the policies of a Liberal government in Ottawa and the wishy-washy policies of our conservative government at Queen's Park.

The CCF has no ties that would prevent it from building those badly needed homes at once. It is the same with the other problems of living that face us today.

With the CCF it is "People First!"

The Limit Is 200

We weren't among the 14,000 patrons at Toronto's first glimpse of the massive Japanese sumo-men, but by press reports and hearsay, it didn't jell. Nor was it unexpected.

In the first place 'rasslin' fans won't go for sumo with its ceremony and tradition. They want blood and thunder and hair-pulling. It's just like introducing Wilf Carter or George Formby at a jazz concert.

And when the average person thinks of Japanese and some form of physical test, he immediately thinks of ju-jitsu. Then he figures that sumo must be something like the famous art of self-defense.

Because each bout usually lasts about half a minute, sumo is only interesting if it's in tournament form with two teams of sumo blimps or where one remains in the ring as long as he remains undefeated. And you have to be familiar with the background, record and standing of the participants and have a favorite among them.

The radio announcer describing the proceedings had a tongue-twisting time with Yakatayama.

The Five Leis...

DES MOINES, Ia. — This is an item from the Des Moines Tribune which recounts the story of a pretty Hawaiian Nisei and her five orchid leis:

"Boarding a plane in Kansas City, Des Moines Hotelman Roland Cook and his wife smiled at a pretty girl from Hawaii who was wearing an orchid lei. They learned that she was stopping in Des Moines, en route to Ames for a home economics course at Iowa State College.

"And when are you staying in Des Moines?" Mr. Cook asked.

'At the Hotel Kirk.'

"The former manager of the Hotel Kirkwood told the little stranger that she was with real home folks. And in Des Moines, Mr. and Mrs. Cook personally saw little Sue Shimora comfortably settled at the Hotel Kirk.

"As they left, Sue hung her orchids around Mrs. Cook's neck. The lei, she said, was one of five she'd worn out of Honolulu late the afternoon before—and along the way, she'd given each to someone who'd been kind to her."

TOR. JCCA STARTS 51-52 FUND DRIVE

The Toronto JCCA chapter which will conduct its Fund Drive from Nov. 18 to Dec. 16 to meet its quota of $4,000, have mailed explanatory notices to all its members including 1952 calendar on which is printed a list of coming events.

The following is the chapter's treasurer's report on the 1950-51 Fund Drive:

"The objective of the 1950-51 Fund Drive was short by approximately $1,000, the total amount of $3,083 being received into the treasury. The executive of the Toronto Chapter JCCA, however, wishes to acknowledge the financial support given them and heartily hope that continued assistance will be given them again in the 1951-52 Fund Drive.

『反對黨』の役割 オンタリオ總選擧（三）

議會政治が正常に行われている所では、議會に於ける第二黨が政府を組織し、第二黨は『ローヤル・オポジション』（政府反對黨）ということになって、政府の施策を批判檢討し是正させる役目を果して行く。そして政府反對黨の首領には大臣なみの俸給を政府から出している。それほどに政府反對黨の首領は重要な地位にあるのである。

議會解散前のオンタリオ州の政府反對黨はシーシーエフで、首領はジョリフ。彼は支那の安徽省で合同教會の宣教師を父母に生れた人で、十二歳の時にオンタリオに歸りトロント大學や英國のオックスフォードに學んだ辯護士。まだ四十二歳の若さで州議會代議士を既に九年つとめている。英國に居た當時、勞働黨に加入しカナダに歸來すると共に英國勞働黨と同じラインを進んでいるシーシーエフの運動に直に加わったのである。

オンタリオ州議會に於てシーシーエフの主張により州政府が、曲りなりにも進歩的な法律の主張を作ったことは既に說明したところであるが、オタワ議會に於ても、シーシーエフの生みの親たる故ウッヅウオース代議士らは議會の少數派でありながら、たゆまざる主張によって、カナダの老年恩給法や子供扶助法その他凡その進歩的なる法律を制定せしめたのであり、政府は組織し得なくとも、反對黨なり少數派として可なり力を發揮することも出來るのである。

この前のオタワ議會總選擧の時であったか、『どうせ自由黨が勝つにきまっているから、それ以外の黨に投票することは自分の投票が反古にされるようなものである』という風なことを言っている者があった。これは投票權というものを單なる金勘定と見る間違った考え方である。己れの良しと信ずる黨と候補者を選んでこれを育ててゆけ、理想の實現に一歩づつ近づかせることを計らなければならぬ。

古くさい話を引合に出して恐れ入るが、今から四分の一世紀程以前にステヴストン青年會長を數年の長きに亘って勤め續けた人格者のあったことを在加同胞は記憶されていることと思う。彼が神聖なる戀愛の勝利者となり結婚するに至った時、彼が使った披露宴の總費僅かに三十數弗であったと聞く。即ち濃い親類と親密な友人幾許かを招いたのみであったが、簡素にして嚴肅、それでいて內容の充實した略宴であったそうである。そして同じ頃の頭彼とは反對に千金の借金までして有名な料亭に地方一流のメイシを招待して馬鹿騒ぎを演じた連中よりも圓滿な家庭生活を營み幸福な人生を送っている。

白人の結婚式の經費は極く少額で、多くても大てい年收の二、三割程度で行われている。多くの場合二、三台の自動車を連らね、チーブに、警笛を鳴らして街上をつッ走るので一見はなやかに見えるが、披露宴に臨むもの全部が車に居るものと見てよく、實にさつぱりしていて、後くされがなく、どこかの國民の子供の樣に何年もの働きを棒に振つてシンサンその他に投げ與えて蔭で舌を出して笑われるのとワケが違う。映畫などで百万長者が盤石振舞をするのを見て、その眞似事をするものがあるとすれば、それこそとんでもないハップンだ。たとえハナタン程のヘソクリが貯蓄できている者にしても、もともと高の知れた勞働者の吾々だ。結婚式に無理して百人百五十人を招いて盛宴をはって見ても、結局は『雛邪若振舞』に終るのが落ちである。

●故鈴木悦氏記念演說會開催は、故人にふさわしい、まことによい思いつきだと思う。一世間で演說會と名のつくものを催すのは、めつたになかつたことで、總移動後は此の種のものとしては初めてのことだと言ってよかろう。まさに十年ぶり、或はそれ以上も見られなかった現象である。諸君が若がえった氣持で演說するのを、ぜひとも聞きに行きたいと樂しみにしている。（ハミルトンにて、エス生）

【ワシントン發】チャーチル氏は選擧演説でもし政權をにぎればツルーマン大統領とスターリン首相と談合し、世界の平和を確立することに努力するだろうと主張してきていたが、いよいよその第一段階としてチャーチル・ツルーマン會談が來年一月に行われることが十一日米政府當局より確認された。しかし、チャーチル首相がツルーマン大統領と會談しても、スターリン首相と三國首腦會談がたやすく實現するかは甚だ疑わしいとされている。すでにツルーマン大統領はスターリン首相がワシントンまで來訪して會談しようということでなければスターリン首相にわざわざ會いには行かないという態度を明らかにしている。

KENT JCCA HAS NIGHT OF MUSIC AND DRAMA, TWO PLAYS FEATURED

CHATHAM, Ont. — A capacity audience saw the presentation of a Night of Music and Drama by the Kent chapter of the JCCA in the Blenheim United Church gym last month. Sponsored by Circle No. 2 of the Blenheim United Church Woman's Association, the affair was an event of varied entertainment.

Following opening addresses by Murray Kayahara, Kent JCCA president, Rev. J. C. Eastcott, and Mr. Charles Daughtery, YMCA councillor, the program began with a play "Sugar and Spice" which featured five Nisei, May Seki, Dick Yanoshita, Ken Mishiyama, Kay Nagata and Patsy Baba.

Other performances by the Kent Nisei besides several performances by Occidental members of the community, were a rendition of a Japanese song by Miss Helen Okubo and two odori numbers by Patsy and Kay Baba. Misses Aya Kondo, Sets Gujii and Ina Hotta were next featured in a play called "Reprieve".

Adding a different twist to the program was a judo exhibition by Fred Miyata and Murray Kayahara.

Mrs. Ina Hotta, the play director, was presented with a bouquet as a token of appreciation for her work.

A social hour in which refreshments were served, capped the successful evening.
